Conway Center Presenting Panel Discussion on Gaining Respect as a New Family Business Leader

Columbus, Ohio – When a family member takes on a new role or takes over the family business, it can be a difficult transition – for both the family leader and the company as a whole. Join family business leaders as they share their experiences and advice on how new family business leaders can make a smooth transition during The Conway Center for Family Business program, R-E-S-P-E-C-T: How Do You Gain It as a New Family Business Leader?

The program will take place 7:30-9 a.m. on October 20 in the Community Room in Alumni Hall at Ohio Dominican University, 1215 Sunbury Road, Columbus, OH 43219.

Conway Center board member and organizational psychologist, Thaddeus O'Brien, will lead an informative panel discussion with Jay Amstutz, President of Ohio Power Tool and Greg Schmitt, President of Lincoln Construction, about best practices for getting and giving respect as a next gen leader. Both young leaders will openly discuss the challenges and opportunities they encountered as they transitioned to running their family businesses.

RSVP to Amy Dotts at ADotts@FamilyBusinessCenter.com or 614-253-4820. The program is free for Conway Center members and $35 for non-members. Family business leaders attending for the first time may attend as a Conway Center guest.

This session is the seventh in a nine-month Third Thursday Educational Series hosted by the Conway Center for Family Business. For more information about this series or the Conway Center, please visit www.FamilyBusinessCenter.com or call 614-253-4820.
