Conway Center Presents Panel Discussion on Best Practices from Family Business CEOs: Why Re-Invent the Wheel?

Columbus, Ohio, May 7, 2018 – Family business CEOs face the challenge of navigating business and family. There is no manual on how to manage this unique dynamic, so it is helpful to learn from others who share similar circumstances.

The Conway Center for Family Business will host a panel discussion on “Why Re-Invent the Wheel? Family Business CEOs on What it Takes to be Successful.” Elizabeth Jutte-Kill of Auld Technologies, Bert Lindsay of Lindsay Honda/Acura, and Michael Swartz of Lake Shore Cryotronics will discuss their own experiences in leading their successful family businesses and how they manage the often lonely-at-the-top issues that face CEOs.

This program is generously sponsored by KeyBank.

The program will take place 7:30-9 a.m. on May 17 in the Community Room at Ohio Dominican University, 1215 Sunbury Road, Columbus, OH 43219.

RSVP to Amy Dotts at ADotts@FamilyBusinessCenter.com or 614-253-4820. The program is free for Conway Center members and $35 for non-members. Family business leaders attending for the first time may attend as a Conway Center guest.

This session is the fifth in the nine-program Educational Series hosted by the Conway Center for Family Business. For more information about this series or the Conway Center, please visit www.FamilyBusinessCenter.com or call 614-253-4820.
